BRAND IDENTITY GUIDELINES

GAND AKI

AADARSHA ACADEMY

INTRODUCTION

At Parichay Advertising, with 15 years of experience in the advertising field, we understand that one of the key priorities for a successful brand is a consistent presentation which everybody recognizes straight away. Irrespective of where and when someone encounters the brand, be it a consumer or business partner, in print, mailing, or catalogue, they must always feel the same way: "It can only be Gandaki Aadarsha Academy."

The following guidelines illustrate how to utilize the basic principles of the Gandaki Aadarsha Academy identity. The identity comprises a very simple kit of parts which, when used together carefully with the correct relationships, will form the distinctive visual expression of the Gandaki Aadarsha Academy brand. This document outlines the components, their structure, and their relationships, which will help you to apply the Gandaki Aadarsha Academy brand consistently across all communications.

If you have any questions along the way, please e-mail us at advertising.parichay@gmail.com or call at 9856031052.

LOGO COSTRUCTION

At Gandaki Aadarsha Academy, we believe that a well-designed logo is the cornerstone of a successful brand identity. It is a visual representation of our values, mission, and connection to our geographical roots. Our logo construction is a meticulous process that combines symbolism, color theory, and design principles to create a memorable and professional visual identity.

EXCLUSION ZONE

To ensure optimal visibility and impact, no other graphic elements, text, or images should encroach upon the exclusion zone of the logo.. The clear space should be free of any visual distractions, maintaining the logo's prominence.

LEGIBILITY

The logo should never be too small to read. We've set a minimum size of 20 mm or 60 pixels. Based on the standard range, the recommended sizes are shown here.
The logo can be used as a tab for pages and imagery. There should be enough clear space at the top of the logo to allow for this in print or online applications.
It is not recommended to use the logo at less than 20mm in width. However, if necessary, use the alternative logotype when 20mm width or greater is not possible.

INCORRECT USAGE

The logo must be used as is and not be altered in any way. This means that you MUST NOT:

- Change the logo's orientation or rotation.
- Disproportionately scale the logo.
- Change the logo's colors.
- Display the logo with colour combinations not previously specified.
- Display the logo in a configuration not previously specified.
- Attempt to recreate the logo.
- Make alterations to the logo's text.
- Add special effects to the logo.
- Add an outline to the logo or display the logo as an outline.
- Use the logo on top of busy photography.
- Display other elements within the logo's designated clear space.
- Crop the logo in any way.

PATTERN

PHOTOS & IMAGES

Photography is a key part of the identity and the use of colour should always feel complimentary to the image: to achieve this, choose the color from the palette that is closest to the dominant color in the selected photograph.

PHOTOS & LOGO

Care must be taken to create well balanced and considered compositions: photography is a key part of the identity and the use of color should always feel complimentary to the image. When placing the logo over photography please choose a pale area of the image to maintain sufficient stand out.

PHOTO TREATMENT

The Blue colour photo treatment creation method is described as a generic one, that most of the graphical software are supporting (i.e. Photoshop, Illustrator).

- Convert the desired photo to greyscale and 50% opacity
- Create new layer above the greyscale photo, and set up a blending mode to Multiply/Darken.

Sometimes the greyscale photo will require some retouching - brightness/contrast.
After creating the image, always flatten the layers before sending, as in some cases like viewing a pdf file from a web browser may not show the desired results, or may appear corrupted.

TYPOGRAPHY

Typography is a powerful tool in the development of a creative identity and is a key element to create a cohesive look across all communications.
Using a typeface consistently makes it recognisable; it pulls together communications and makes them more distinctive. The style of type we use to bring our communication to life sets the tone of our brand: clean, modern, stylish, distinctive and legible. The selected font is an all time classic: Avenir.

EMAIL SIGNATURE

For a strong corporate image, all e-mail messages should identify the sender in a standard and clear manner. Please follow the example shown. It is possible to create a default e-mail signature through your e-mail program. As in the example, you can set up the program to automatically add your signature to the end of every e-mail you send. E-mail signatures should be light grey text with orange and green accents. To keep a professional look and to minimize file size, do not add any additional graphics, logos, slogans, or messages to your e-mail signature.

GLOSSARY

Corporate Identity
A corporate identity is the overall image of a corporation or firm or business in the minds of diverse publics, such as customers and investors and employees. It is a primary task of the company communications department to maintain and build this identity to accord with and facilitate the attainment of business objectives.

Identity Manual
A formal reference document establishing technical and creative standards for a visual identity system. Typical standards include descriptions and specifications for reproducing the logo or logotype stationery system, common print and web applications and examples of use on merchandise.

Logo
A logo is a graphic mark or emblem commonly used by commercial enterprises, organizations and even individuals to aid and promote instant public recognition. Logos are either purely graphic (symbols/icons) or are composed of the name of the organization (a logotype or wordmark).

Typeface/Font Family
In typography, a typeface (also known as font family) is a set of one or more fonts each composed of glyphs that share common design features. Each font of a typeface has a specific weight, style, condensation, width, slant, italicization, ornamentation, and designer or foundry.

Stationery
Stationery has historically pertained to a wide gamut of materials: paper and office supplies, writing implements, greeting cards, glue, pencil cases and other similar items.

Template
A pre-developed page layout in electronic or paper media used to make new pages with a similar design, pattern, or style.

Brand
Brand is the "name, term, design, symbol, or any other feature that identifies one seller's product distinct from those of other sellers." Initially, branding was adopted to differentiate one person's cattle from another's by means of a distinctive symbol burned into the animal's skin with a hot iron stamp and was subsequently used in business, marketing, and advertising.

CMYK
The CMYK color model (process color, four color) is a subtractive color model, used in color printing, and is also used to describe the printing process itself. CMYK refers to the four inks used in some color printing: cyan, magenta, yellow, and key (black). The "K" in CMYK stands for key because in four-color printing, cyan, magenta, and yellow printing plates are carefully keyed, or aligned, with the key of the black key plate.

Palette
A given, finite set of colors for the management of digital images.
